San Francisco.—The race for the democratic presidential nomination had tightened today, with greater initial strength apparently accruing to three leaders and many of the minor candidates being practically eliminated.

The camps of Attorney General A. Mitchell Palmer, Governor James M. Cox and William G. McAdoo were increasingly optimistic, while the organizations of James W. Gerard, Vice-President Thomas R. Marshall assumed greater expectancy of the leaders running into a deadlock and paving the way for a compromise candidate. Other aspirants were frankly dubious of their outlook.

Perhaps the most important overnight development was the reported decision of the Mississippi delegation, following its complimentary vote for Senator John Sharp Williams, to cast its twenty votes solidly for Cox "forever after."

It was known that both the McAdoo and Palmer backers had counted on winning several delegates from this state after they had deserted their "favorite son."

Possibly significant was the boast of McAdoo delegates that their candidate would receive the greatest number of votes on the first ballot. The basis for this claim could not be established. The "board of directors" in the McAdoo organization, however, stuck to its previous position of being "satisfied with 200 to 250 votes the first time out." This would compare with the Palmer claim of 300 to 350 first choice delegates—a claim that had not been seriously disputed.

C. C. Carlin, manager for Palmer, allowed his man would "be ahead on the first ballot and every ballot after that."

E. H. Moore, Cox's chieftain, predicted the Ohioan would be out ahead when second choice strength was revealed. Thomas B. Love, one of the McAdoo directors, gave the impression he would revise his estimate of last week—McAdoo by the sixth ballot—downward, if he cared, but said he would "let it go as it stood."

The vigorous opposition with which Palmer and Cox were meeting the McAdoo boom was apparent everywhere.

Always there flashed about presidential row that Palmer and Cox had, or would, effect an alliance to squelch McAdoo, but Palmer and Cox leaders made it plain they believed they were doing very well in that line by themselves.

The Palmer cause was heartened by a report that Iowa, in case its favorite son, Secretary of Agriculture Meredith, fails to develop strength, would deposit its 26 ballots to the Palmer account.

New Hampshire, the report said, had decided to give half of its eight votes to McAdoo on the first ballot, with one for Palmer, and the balance for a locally known "favorite son."

The McAdoo organization was said to be still divided as to the desirability of placing their candidate's name in formal nomination.

Dr. Burris Jenkins said he had decided to go ahead on his own responsibility.

PARK CARETAKER FINDS NO TIME FOR IDLENESS

The heavy rains of the last two weeks which have been followed by extreme heat have kept John Hopewell, caretaker at Jones park unusually busy. Grass is growing so rapidly that he finds it almost impossible to keep it down, while the shrubbery is making such strides as to make weekly trimmings necessary. Jones park has been unusually wet this summer and as a usual thing the heaviest showers occur on Monday. The park was drenched the night of the band concert a week ago Monday and was flooded again last Monday afternoon.

Shiocton Girl Loses Life In Auto Accident

Miss Marie Oaks Dies This Morning of Injuries Received When Car
Crashes Into Stone Crusher
on Shiocton Street

Miss Marie Oaks, 20 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Oaks, Shiocton, died at her home about eight o'clock this morning of injuries which she received when an automobile in which she was riding ran into a stone crusher on the main street in Shiocton about two o'clock this morning. The young woman had been unconscious since her injury.

Miss Oaks and her companion, Jesse Poole, were returning in Mr. Poole's car from a dance in Black Creek when the accident occurred. A stone crusher owned by J. Nelson had been left standing on the street, near a railroad intersection, with two wheels on the edge of the concrete. A heavy oak working table projected about two feet from the machine out into the street.

Mr. Poole, who was driving about 20 miles an hour, cut diagonally across the railroad tracks to avoid a hard bump and ran into the projecting table which was high enough to crash through the windshield. The glass and table struck Miss Oaks in the breast, smashing in her ribs, puncturing one lung, breaking her arm and her nose. The car struck the obstruction with such force that Miss Oaks was pushed through the back of the seat.

Mr. Poole, who escaped all injury, rushed the girl to her home and summoned medical aid. She died at eight o'clock this morning.

The young woman is survived by her parents, a brother and a sister.

WANT REED TO BOLT TO LIBERAL PARTY

REPUTED DEMOCRAT IS CONSIDERED AS THE POSSIBLE
HEAD OF THIRD PARTY TICKET

By United Press Leased Wire
Chicago.—Senator James A. Reed, of Missouri, who was refused a delegate's seat at the democratic national convention, may have an opportunity to head a third party ticket, which will be named here within the next two weeks, according to backers of the proposed third party movement today.

In a statement issued today by A. W. Ricker, treasurer and member of the executive committee of the committee of forty-eight, Reed was commended for the stand he has taken against the president.

Ricker's statement was issued following the publication here of a signed editorial by William Randolph Hearst, supporting Reed as a new party candidate.

Ricker's statement pointed out that "delegates are coming to our convention on July 10 from every state in the union for the purpose of organizing a new party and formulating a platform which will mean something."

The committee of forty-eight will hold its convention on July 10 and the Labor Party will meet the following day. These parties are expected to amalgamate.

He said 100,000 men would go on strike at 11 a. m. July 5, unless the demands are met.

A conference of union representatives from New York, St. Louis, Chicago, Buffalo, Baltimore, Trenton, Wilmington and Philadelphia will be held in Pittsburgh July 1 to decide on strike action. San Francisco.—After a short meeting this morning, members of the resolutions sub-committee drafting the democratic platform, went from the Palace hotel to the Auditorium to confer with the full committee. It was understood that several members of the full committee insisted the plank writers should be told just how far they can go in writing declarations on the league of nations, liquor and other big issues.

Senator Glass reported to the full committee that it would be impossible for the sub-committee to complete its work before late today and suggested it be authorized to continue its deliberations.

Senator King, Utah, moved that the committee recess until 7:30 p. m. to give the sub-committee an opportunity to go ahead, and that motion was adopted.

San Francisco.—Every one of the nine members of the resolutions sub-committee flatly denied today a widely circulated report that the committee last night rejected a proposal to put a wet plank in the democratic platform.

The members are Senator Carter Glass, chairman; Secretary of State Bainbridge Colby, Senator Walsh, Montana; Vance McCormick, Pennsylvania; Senator McKellar, Tennessee; Horace Hawkins, Colorado; George H. Hodges, Kansas; M. M. Crane, Texas and W. R. Pattangall, Maine.

There was no vote taken, either formally or informally, and no decision formal or informal was reached, they declared individually.

The report in question said the wet plank proposition was defeated, 6 to 2.

(By L. C. Martin)

San Francisco.—Wrestling almost through the night with the delicate questions which they have been called on to handle, the framers of the democratic party platform adjourned, at an early hour this morning, their work far from completed.

Unexpected difficulties were encountered when the sub-committee, of nine, named to draft the platform, met last night. Instead of ratifying an administration platform, already drawn up for them, the committee members found it necessary, because of strong pressure from various quarters, to make drastic modifications in planks submitted by administration leaders. These modifications, which were necessary, it was explained to placate "restless elements" which demanded consideration.

Without agreeing finally on the form of a single plank, the sub-committee adjourned at 2 a. m. until 9:30 when the deliberations were to be resumed.

"Model" Platforms

The sub-committee began working from two "model" platforms, one the Virginia democratic platform, specifically approved by President Wilson and the other a draft known as the administration platform, which Secretary of State Colby had before him.

Agreeing at the outset that the work was only tentative and would face review and revision by the full committee, sub-committee members decided to do their work deliberately. Early in the evening they discussed the league of nations plank, Senator Walsh, of Montana, an "insurgent" who favors reservations, urging that the Wilson plank as the latest draft of the league plank is known, should not be adopted.

He said its demand for treaty ratification without substantial reservations would act as a boomerang upon the democratic party, and pointed out the utility of expecting unqualified ratification, without a strong reservation to "Article 10" unless the democrats won overwhelming control of the senate. Ever then, Walsh insisted enough democrats to vote for ratification unless Article 10 was modified.

Later expressing his views on the subject with considerable vigor, Walsh left the meeting and did not return. He denied that discord caused him to depart.

Differ on Irish Plank

The differences of opinion which developed were not on fundamentals but on phraseology, for the most part. There was, however, some difference of opinion as to the wisdom of incorporating an Irish plank. Some members of the sub-committee courted silence while others advocated a reference to Ireland in connection with the league of nations as the hope of oppressed people for redress, through the operation of Article 10, which would give the United States "the friendly right" to call Ireland's condition to the attention of the league. No member of the sub-committee advocated adoption of the Irish plank presented to the resolutions committee yesterday by Frank P. Walsh and Senator Phelan, pledged.

RESTORATION OF PARTY RULE TO BE CAMPAIGN ISSUE

HARDING AND COOLIDGE AGREE THAT "PERSONAL GOVERNMENT MUST BE ELIMINATED"

WORK FOR VICE-PRESIDENT

G. O. P. Nominee Avers That There Is Plenty of Work for the Vice-President and They Expect To Work Together If Elected

By United Press Leased Wire

Washington, D. C.—Senator Harding and Governor Coolidge have agreed to base the presidential campaign on a plea for restoration of party government as a substitute for "personal government," Harding said today.

The announcement followed a conference attended by the republican candidates for president and vice-president and Will Hays National Republican chairman.

Harding also said it had been agreed that the vice-president should play a larger part in coordinating the work of the president and senate.

Make Campaign Plans
"Governor Coolidge breakfasted with me this morning," said Senator Harding, "and we have agreed that we will base the campaign on an appeal to restore party government as a constitutional substitute for personal government."

"The governor and I have each served as lieutenant governors in our states and we both have learned from experience how possible it is for the second official in the state to be a helpful part in the party administration. I think the vice-president should be more than a mere substitute-in-waiting."

"In re-establishing co-ordination between the executive office and the senate, the vice-president can and ought to play a big part and I have been telling Governor Coolidge how much I wish him to be not only a participant in the campaign but how much I wish him to be a helpful part of a republican administration. The country needs the counsel and becoming participation in the government of such men as Governor Coolidge."

Will Work Together

Coolidge issued the following statement:

"It is not a new experience for me to campaign with Senator Harding. We have been campaigning in Massachusetts together for years. I suppose he is better known to me than any other member of the senate outside of our state."

"I am here to co-operate with my associate. We have many problems ahead. Many men have many remedies. The best remedy is the observance of the constitution and the laws, not their enforcement, mind you. I am now speaking of that. Of course the government will enforce the laws. That is far from enough. There must be a return of public opinion toward a self-control by the people, toward a great and overmastering desire to observe the law. When that is done the other problems will fall away, there will be peace, prosperity and progress."

May Change Program

Replying to the statement of Senator Penrose opposing the "front porch" campaign plan, Senator Harding said that "no unalterable program has been made up and that there is merit in the swing around the circle."

While Harding and Coolidge were posing for the movies today, Harding tucked a four leafed clover and held it up and then gave it to Coolidge.

"It is a good omen," he said.

"CAN" HARDING'S FIRST SPEECH OF CAMPAIGN

(By Raymond Clapper)

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington, D. C.—Senator Warren G. Harding and Governor Calvin Coolidge, republican presidential and vice-presidential candidates, met today for the first conference since their nomination.

They will talk over campaign plans and get acquainted. Plans for removing Harding's headquarters to Ohio were virtually complete today. Tentative plans have been made for Harding to slip away for another week-end and appear in his home town on Monday when a scheduled homecoming celebration is planned.

Harding made his first campaign speech yesterday talking into a phonograph. The record will be distributed throughout the country for July fourth celebrations. He said America needs no foreign powers to point out its path of duty and he renewed allegiance to the Monroe doctrine.

BRYAN'S FUTURE HINGES ON FIGHT RAGING IN FRISCO

ADMINISTRATION FORCES HOPE TO ELIMINATE COMMONER
FROM FURTHER CONSIDERATION

LONG DRAWN OUT BATTLE

Platform Committee Is Expected to Remain in Session for Another Day at Least—Bryan Considered as Possible Nominee

By United Press Leased Wire

San Francisco.—Within 48 hours William J. Bryan will have been crushed by the administration tank that is rumbling across the democratic battlefield here today, or he will have climbed to the driver's seat, according to every indication on the various fronts.

The fight between Bryan and President Wilson for control of the democratic convention became more intense today with the report that Secretary of State Colby, representing the president, is working for a damp plank in the platform.

The Wilson and Bryan forces already are engaged in a bitter strife over the question of whether the convention shall endorse the league of nations. But even the league is overshadowed in Bryan's estimation by the wet-dry issue.

Colby's Wet Plank

The report is that Colby's wet plank is based on the impression that the administration favors modification of the Volstead act. It will be recalled that Wilson vetoed the wartime prohibition act. Colby is on the sub-committee which is actually drafting the platform planks, while Bryan is expected to have most of his ammunition for the open fight which is looked for on the convention floor when the platform comes up for approval there.

Fight for Life

Bryan is waging the fight of his life. On the liquor issue, it is apparent that he has a chance to win, but on the league issue, it looks as if he had his back to the wall.

Administration forces are not considering a compromise with the Nebraska, firmly believing they can beat him in the committee and on the floor. Bryan's direct challenge to Wilson on the league issue, delivered in his speech at the Jackson banquet in Washington last January, has not been forgotten. The Wilson leaders evidently want to eliminate him from politics and are determined to annihilate him in the present encounter—adequate punishment for attempting to seize party control from the president, in the opinion of Bryan's friends.

If Bryan is decisively beaten in the liquor fight, his opponents will feel that he has been definitely crushed, politically. This, they hold, would obliterate all chances of Bryan influencing the presidential nomination or holding a veto power over any candidate.

Reward Is Big

Should Bryan prove victor in the liquor fight, after a spectacular contest, there is no doubt that he would be the biggest single figure in the convention and the party and that his advice on the nomination would be sought. There even were rumors of a Bryan boom in that event. After having captured the convention on the wet-dry issue, the commoner, it is predicted, would oppose nomination of McAdoo, Cox or Palmer.

The nine members of the sub-committee of the resolutions committee who have the drafting of the platform in their hands, slept until late this morning, resting from midnight labors. As the hour approached for the morning meeting, attaches of guard at the doors of the committee men's hotel quarters, said none of them had arisen.

NON-PARTISANS FIGHT FOR DAKOTA CONTROL

By United Press Leased Wire

Bismarck, N. D.—The National Non-Partisan League today was fighting to retain control of the state government in the republican primary. Candidates of the independent voters' association were striving to stack up enough votes to oust the leaguers from control. After one of the most bitter campaigns in the history of the state, leaders today predicted a heavy vote. Polls close at 9 o'clock tonight.

Republicans will nominate for all state offices. Democrats have combined on a slate headed by J. F. T. O'Connor for governor.

Friends of Elwell declared their belief that the solution of the murder might be found in a supposed quarrel growing out of the liquor deal.

District Attorney Swann said no evidence sufficient to cause an arrest had been uncovered.

San Francisco.—The near split in the ranks of the democratic women delegates over the league of nations issue which occurred Monday, leaves Miss Laura Clay, delegate-at-large from Kentucky, deserted by her colleague, Mrs. Cora Wilson Steward, the other woman delegate-at-large from the same state.

Miss Clay, at a caucus meeting, had urged the women delegates of the convention not to endorse the keynote speech of Homer Cummings, which was strongly pro-league. Mrs. Steward, in an interview today, bitterly attacked her colleague on the issue.

ALLIES ARE TIRED OF MINOR QUARRELS

By United Press Leased Wire

London.—Entente representatives will go to the Spa conference with a firm determination to clear up the many controversies in connection with the German peace treaties. It was authoritatively stated here today.

Conclusion of the Spa meeting will find the disarmament, reparations and economic issues definitely disposed of, it was stated.

The conference at Brussels which will be preliminary to the Spa meeting, will determine the maximum concessions to be made to Germany by the allies and the minimum of German obligations.

It was understood that Premiers Lloyd George and Millerand have agreed on the proposals to be submitted to German representatives. Considerable doubt was felt regarding the probable attitude of Italian Premier Giolitti toward the entente negotiations.

Decisions reached at the Spa conference will not be contingent upon America's acceptance. The United States will not be officially represented, but Americans attending the conference in an unofficial capacity will be consulted.

A British official who is associated with Lloyd George, declared today that Great Britain was through with "diplomacy that gets nowhere." He said there would be no squabbling at Spa over non-essential details.

It was understood Premier Millerand held this same view but was determined to hold Germany to the letter of the peace treaty on the more important issues.

EAU CLAIRE GETS NEXT LEGION CONVENTION

(Special to Post-Crescent.)

Green Bay.—Eau Claire was awarded the 1921 state convention of the American Legion by delegates to the first annual meeting here this morning. There was no opposition to the selection of Eau Claire.

A resolution pledging the Legion to take a decided stand against impairment of educational institutions in the state was adopted after a bitter fight. More than 30 delegates took part in the wrangle. Opponents averred the Legion was getting itself into politics by taking a stand in the matter.

A determined effort to stampede the convention for Gov. Cox, of Ohio, was in full swing as Chairman Robinson called the delegates to order at 11:29 a. m. today to hear nominating speeches.

Cox rooters in the gallery dominated the situation with college yells and a song about "We'll nominate Cox or know the reason why."

Rabbi Meyer delivered the invocation while the crowd stood.

The immense throng, one minute surging about the aisles and yelling for Cox, Palmer, McAdoo and other candidates, was instantly silenced as the rabbi began praying.

Rabbi Meyer read his prayer in a deep resonant voice that was easily heard in the furthestmost galleries. When the last words of the invocation had died away, the band and the orator boomed forth with the national anthem and the delegates and visitors stood quietly as the first verse was concluded. On the second, hundreds joined in the chorus and sang through to the end.

Delegate King, of Utah, was recognized by the chair. King explained yesterday the Canal Zone was omitted in the official apportionment of delegates for the next convention. He offered a resolution correcting the error. It was adopted.

Billiard licenses were granted to A. Jens, Carr & Hanson, W. C. Storch and Andrew Ingraham. A license was refused the Blue Mount County club which was to have given a dance here this evening.

Oppose Carnival License
The granting of a license to the carnival company which is to be in Appleton during the week of July 12-15 under the auspices of the Loyal Order of Moose met with strenuous opposition on the part of some of the aldermen, who when it came to voting, cast their ballot with the majority of aldermen. Aldermen McGilgan was spokesman for the Moose and said that his Order had decided to start a building fund and by the agreement it had entered into with the carnival company it was to receive a certain percentage of the profits. The company recently appeared at Sheboygan under the auspices of the Moose Lodge of that city which assured the Appleton Lodge that it was a clean aggregation with no objectionable features and that it carried out its contract to the letter.

Mayer Loses Sleep
All carnival companies looked alike to Alderman Mayer, a member of the police and license committee, who said that they were a great annoyance to property owners in the vicinity of the grounds on which they pitched their tents and he assured the council that he knew what he was talking about as he lived only a short distance from where two carnivals were held. The noise always continued until after midnight and started again at five o'clock in the morning and it was impossible for people to get their usual hours of rest. The license fee was fixed at five dollars a day or thirty dollars for the week, which Alderman McGilgan stated was to be paid by the Loyal Order of Moose. The grounds secured are located on west College avenue at the junction of State Road.

Seil First Team
The fire team at the No. 2 engine house, which has seen several years' service and which has just been replaced by a motor fire truck was sold to Michael Derfus, rural route No. 3, for $160. As the horses had rendered excellent service the aldermen assured themselves that they were getting into good hands before letting them go. Among others who submitted bids were J. Hoppe who offered $75 for the team and George Doine who offered $75 for the white horse, but submitted no figure for its mate. Oscar Dredman offered $60 for the white horse and $50 for the black. No bids were received for the city's black team which was also offered for sale.

World Change Payday
Alderman McGilgan submitted a resolution favoring the payment of city employees twice a month on regular dates instead of at irregular intervals as now. He said that practically all of the mills pay their men on the 5th and 20th of each month, while the city employees are frequently required to wait three weeks for their pay envelopes which often works a hardship. The alderman was informed that the present system of payment averaged up about the same as the one he recommended and that the change he proposed would make it inconvenient for the finance committee which must act on all bills. Following a brief discussion the alderman decided to withdraw his resolution.

In accordance with a resolution passed at the last meeting the payroll of city employees was allowed on account of the next regular meeting not being held until after July 4. A petition for cinderling Sherman Place, bearing thirteen signatures, was referred to the street committee. A petition for a sidewalk on Virginia street from Outagamie to Mason was also referred to the street committee.

APPLETON MAN AT SHRINER CONCLAVE

W. H. TIMM RETURNS FROM EXTENDED VISIT TO THE NORTHWESTERN STATES

W. H. Timm returned Monday night from a several weeks' trip to the Pacific coast. He went out for the purpose of attending the annual meeting of the Nanose, Wellington, Collier Coal company and incidentally attended the international Shriner's convention and the Rose Carnival, both of which were held at Portland, Ore.

The coal company, which has been established for some time had a prosperous year. J. M. Braun of Appleton, who is also a stockholder, was elected a director. The mine is located on Vancouver Island, and all the shipping is done by boat.

Mr. Timm said that the Shriners' convention was one of the most elaborate in the history of the organization. It was attended by over 100,000 visitors from all over the United States and Canada, 40,000 of whom were delegates. Temporary side tracks were built on many of the streets in order to make it possible for visitors to occupy their train berths.

The people of Portland did everything possible for the entertainment of their guests. Boat excursions and automobile rides about the city were given daily. Automobile owners made it a special point to give visitors a boost whenever possible and frequently stopped them on the street to inquire their destination and offer their services.

The Rose Carnival was one of the prettiest things which Mr. Timm saw on his entire trip. There were over 200 floats in the parade which required three hours to pass. The floats were in all possible designs and were banked with roses and wild flowers, all native to Oregon.

While in Oregon Mr. Timm tried his luck at hunting jack rabbits which were very numerous in that part of the state which he visited. During his absence he also spent considerable time at Seattle. He came home by way of Nebraska, which he said has a wonderful wheat crop that is just ripening.

200 VETERANS OFF TO STATE MEETING

APPLETON DELEGATION WANTS TO BRING THE 1922 CONVENTION TO THIS CITY

A special train of six coaches carrying about 200 Appleton members of the American Legion left for the Green Bay convention at nine o'clock this morning. The train took on delegations at Neenah, Appleton, Little Chute and Kaukauna. Large numbers of ex-service men were reported to be awaiting the train at each point. The Appleton delegation wore special badges containing the name of their city in large letters. They intend to work quietly among the Wisconsin posts for the 1922 convention and meet with favorable success in their campaigning thus far.

Today is the gala day of the convention. All of 10,000 veterans were expected to be on hand for the festivities, which are of an extensive and varied nature, including parades, band concerts, automobile trips, theater performances and other entertainment features. A number of Appleton people left yesterday to take in the business sessions.

HIGHWAY MEN HERE TO HEAR COMPLAINT

CROSS COUNTY ROAD LAY-OUT IS DISCUSSED AT HEARING IN COURTHOUSE TODAY

Representatives of the state highway commission arrived here this morning to hear objections to the proposed layout of the New London-Black Creek-Green Bay road. The hearing is being held this afternoon at the court house.

Opposition arose because of the claim that part of the route between Black Creek and Shiocton led thru a swamp, which would be impassable in rainy weather. Testimony will be taken by the Legislative State Trunk Highway commission of which Senator E. F. Clark of Galesville is chairman.

The other members of the commission here are Assemblyman John C. Chapelle, Ashland; Senator Anton Kuckuk, Shawano; Frank Kuchak, Milwaukee; John J. Ruka, Rosebush; A. R. Hirst and J. T. Donaghy, Madison; and Otto Rollman, Green Bay, division engineer.

OSHKOSH RELATIVE IS INJURED IN FALL

Miss Carrie Kuchmsted has returned from Oshkosh where she was called to the bedside of her aunt, Mrs. Ida Kuchmsted, who is suffering from serious injuries which she received Saturday when she slipped and fell from the rear veranda of her home. She broke both arms, one at the wrist and the other just above the wrist, and received injuries to her chest. Miss Kuchmsted reports that her aunt's condition is better than could be expected. Mrs. Kuchmsted is a woman of 85 years, but has always been extremely active, and complete and prompt recovery is expected.

STREET CAR HITS BUS STOPPING ON STREET CAR TRACK

TRACTION COMPANY MAY SUE BUS OWNER FOR DISABLING STREET CAR THIS MORNING

A collision about ten o'clock this morning between an interurban car and an Appleton-Neenah bus owned by the Homan garage, Neenah, created some excitement and may probably bring to a head a controversy between the two companies.

Motorman John Nathrop stated that both the bus and the interurban were proceeding north on Lake street. The bus stopped directly in the path of the car at the corner of Fremont street to take on a passenger. The motorman saw that he could not avoid hitting the rear end of the bus and therefore reversed his motor. Fire broke out below the floor of the car and one company was summoned from the fire department to extinguish the blaze.

The vestibule of the street car was badly damaged and Mr. Nathrop suffered a cut on the hand from flying glass. The rear end of the bus was dented and two windows broken. Some of the passengers were shaken up and suffered minor cuts from flying glass. The street car was disabled and had to be sent to the car barns.

William Egan, driver of the bus stated that he stopped at the Fremont corner to take on a young lady, and did not see the approaching car until the lady called his attention to it. It was too late to drive off the track and the collision took place.

A. K. Ellis, manager of the traction company, stated that the company intended to start action against the bus owners for disabling the car and putting it out of service. He stated that this was not the first time an accident of this kind had occurred and that others may occur with perhaps more serious consequences. He claimed that the bus drivers made it a point to keep just ahead of the interurban cars so as to pick up most of the passengers and that they did so without regard for safety. Motormen have sent him several written requests to stop the practice, because they said there was too much danger. Mr. Ellis produced several reports showing how a similar collision had occurred in December and others where they were narrowly averted. He believes the city council or some other officials ought to require the busses to run on a different schedule as a matter of safety.

PREPARE PROGRAM FOR RELIGION WORK

FINAL PLANS FOR RELIGIOUS INSTITUTE WILL BE PRESENTED AT MEETING TONIGHT

F. A. Hathaway, associate state secretary of the Y. M. C. A., and "Daddy" Wones, well-known state boys' secretary, are leading the Appleton association in an all-day conference on religious work for the coming year, today.

The conference opened at 9:30 this morning, and work on the religious program will continue until about nine o'clock this evening. Mr. Hathaway is directing the attitude of the association toward men's work, and Mr. Wones toward work for the younger element.

Preliminary discussion was practically completed at 3:00 o'clock this afternoon, when general plans for the men's program were set up. These plans will be submitted in final form following a supper of the conference this evening. The principal purpose of the gathering is to form a definite policy for the religious institute which is to be set up by the local Y. M. C. A. this fall.

Joseph E. Dennison, recently engaged religious secretary for the association here, is present in order to insure a good start for the institute, of which he will have charge after August 1.

Pastors of local churches who are co-operating in the movement, directors of the association, Sunday school superintendents, and members of the religious and boys' work committees, take part in the conference. The aim of the institute is to co-operate with and to supplement the work of local churches in the religious field.

EDUCATION BOARD HEARS REPORT OF YEAR'S ACTIVITIES

APPLETON'S SCHOOL PROBLEM IS PRESENTED BY SUPERIN-TENDENT IN ANNUAL REPORT.

Appleton's school building problem was presented to the board of education at its annual meeting in the high school this afternoon by Miss Carrie E. Morgan, superintendent of schools. Miss Morgan reviewed the difficulties besetting the board of education and the district school boards and cautioned that this problem should be considered from the standpoint of city-wide usefulness, rather than through district eyes.

reviewed and plans for next year were discussed in the report. Considerable time was devoted to enrollment figures and statistics and to the work of the city school nurse. Miss Morgan suggested that the city engage a nurse to work in the parochial schools and that the board of education employ another for the public schools. She said that one nurse is unable to give proper attention to the 5,000 pupils in the city.

School population increased 33 in the year from July 1, 1918, to June 30, 1919. Miss Morgan reported. A total of 5,727 children of school age lived in the city at the end of the last school year. They were apportioned as follows: First ward, 999; Second ward, 603; Third ward, 1,332; Fourth ward, 783; Fifth ward, 1,145; Sixth ward, 955.

Enrollment in all the schools, exclusive of the Vocational school, totaled 3,251. Of this number 536 attended the kindergarten, 1,980 the grade schools, and 685 the high school. The Vocational school enrollment totaled 1,156, a gain of 393 over last year.

Need More Money.
Teachers and pupils have been very happy in the Vocational school this last year, but they have been badly handicapped because of lack of funds to carry on their work, Miss Morgan said. She predicted relief from this situation when the law increasing the mill tax for Vocational schools becomes effective.

Two hundred four pupils graduated from the grade schools this year, an increase of 48 over the year previous. Miss Morgan predicted a freshmen class of over 300 in the high school when the next term opens in September.

Illness Cuts Attendance.
Despite the epidemics of illness which swept over the city last winter, the average daily attendance in the various schools was 166 larger than in 1919, Miss Morgan reported. Attendance in the schools, especially in the lower grades, was greatly reduced by these epidemics, in fact the effect was worse than during the influenza scourge of the preceding year.

The report of Jacob C. Pfeil, truancy officer, was reviewed and praised. Mr. Pfeil had investigated 696 cases of non-attendance during the year. Only 30 cases of non-attendance were charged to truancy. Parental negligence was blamed for 164 cases.

"Last year we made an innovation in our school work by the addition of a much-needed school nurse, and so successful was the experiment that we wonder how we ever got along without her," the report said.

Lunches Are Popular.
"Another feature added was the

GIRLS TO SPEND DAY IN 'VALLEY OF MOON'

INDEPENDENCE DAY TO BE CELEBRATED BY YOUNG WOMEN
AT DELIGHTFUL PICNIC SPOT.

Independence Day will be celebrated Monday by girls of this city with an outing in the Valley of the Moon, a well known picnic spot about three miles from Waverly beach. The plan are in the hands of Miss Constance Johnson, recreational director of Appleton Woman's club. Next week will be Recreation Week for girls of 16 or over, and Monday will open the week with the biggest event.

The picnicers will meet at 10 o'clock in the morning at the south steps of the high school. Every girl's equipment will include lunch for the noon and evening meals, bathing suit and towel, and stout shoes for playing games, swimming, boating, and other picnic sports. An all-day outing will bring the girls of the city closely together and work for better unity and good feeling among them. The spot chosen for the picnic is one of the prettiest in the vicinity. It will require a three mile hike from the car line to reach, but the trip will be made in a leisurely fashion with a delightful promise at its end.

introduction of milk and cracked lunches into our schools. These lunches were popular beyond belief, and schools that tried them out for the longest period the results were surprising," Miss Morgan continued. She said that the work of the nurse is assuming such large proportions the steps must be taken to provide assistance. Last year a total of 5,32 children were examined; of these only 583 were free from physical defects, while the remainder, 4,739, were found to be suffering with some imperfection. More than half of the children, 2,559 in all, had defective teeth and 753 suffered with diseases of the tonsils, the report showed. More than 350 had defective vision, and 534 are suffering with anemia.

Miss Helen Revett, school nurse last year, made 2,047 individual health talks in connection with her work. Nearly 350 homes were visited and she held 238 consultations with parents. To her knowledge corrections were made in 373 cases after consultation with parents or pupils or both.

All Have Playgrounds
Miss Morgan said she was glad to report that all the schools now possess playground apparatus and that it is being extensively used. The work in the high school gymnasium was reviewed and Miss Morgan said that excellent results are obtainable from this department.

Work in the ungraded schools was discussed fully. Miss Morgan said that very satisfactory results have been obtained in these departments.

and said the attendance would be larger if parents of children who are backward in their studies would realize the advantages of attending these schools. Deal school activities were reviewed, Miss Morgan stating that 24 children, 11 of whom are deaf are attending this school.

Building Problem
The report concluded with a review of the building situation. "In doubtlessly the greatest problem before us at the present time is the question of adequate accommodations," Miss Morgan said.

"The high school has been seriously considering this problem for two years, but as yet it remains unsolved. Last year additional accommodations were secured by the building of a three room barracks on the school grounds and the renting of two large rooms in the Post building. It is proposed for the coming year to abandon the rooms in the Post building and barracks by eliminating the locker rooms and fitting these two rooms with chairs and blackboards. Under this arrangement the lockers will have to be placed in the halls and a store room fitted up as a toilet room. How long it will be possible to work under this arrangement will be known in the fall when it is ascertained what the enrollment will be and a try-out of the plan has been made. A committee has been appointed to study the question of permanent relief and will doubtless have plans ready to submit early in the school year.

"The first district is confronting a similar problem. An article appeared in a recent issue of the Post-Crescent, giving the report of the state inspector, who condemns the building for school purposes and wishes to have a new building erected by October 1921 on penalty of losing the state aid.

"The Fifth ward added another temporary room this year, using a portion of the assembly room. It will be recalled by those who knew the original plans of the Fifth Ward building, that it was intended to divide this large room for grade room purposes whenever it should be determined necessary to do so. The Third ward is talking of the erection of a new building near the Junction at some future time.

"With so many building propositions before us, it will certainly be best to view them as a whole and not as separate units to determine what will be the most desirable as well as the most economical thing to do. A Junior high school would certainly relieve the congestion in all quarters, but some are of the opinion that it would not obviate the necessity of erecting some ward schools as well. The matter should be thoroughly investigated before any step is taken."

COULD HARDLY GET A WINK OF SLEEP

WATCHED HIS STRENGTH SLIP-
PING AWAY FOR WEEKS—
TANLAC SOON RE-
STORED HEALTH

"I have just finished my third bottle of Tanlac and I can truthfully say I never felt better in my life than I do now. I don't remember it," said Emil J. Borstad, 1927 Fourth St., Janesville, who is an employee of the Olson-Bradley Co., manufacturers of electrical devices.

"When I commenced taking Tanlac I had been suffering from stomach trouble for two years. I had no appetite at all severely and what little I did eat would cause me to turn off my stomach. I would become badly nauseated and at times had terrible rumbling spells. I often had dizzy spells and such bad, dizzy spells I could hardly keep from falling. My kidneys gave me a lot of trouble and there was always such severe pains across the small of my back it was difficult for me to get up or down. I also suffered with rheumatism in my legs at times and the muscles would get so sore and the joints so stiff I could not walk without limping badly. I could get but little sleep, as I was so restless at night I would just roll and toss from one side of the bed to the other all night long and in the morning felt worse than when I went to bed. I lost a lot of weight, my strength was slowly leaving me, I felt tired and worn out all the time and in fact, was in a badly un-down condition generally.

"I decided after reading so many statements from people praising Tanlac that I would give it a trial. Well, I had taken only a few doses when I began to feel better, and now, while I have taken only three bottles, as I said before, I am enjoying splendid health. I have a ravenous appetite, everything I eat agrees with me, I never have a sign of gas, nausea or ramps. The pains have gone out of my back entirely. I never have a headache or become dizzy any more. I go to sleep almost as soon as my head touches the pillow and always get up feeling fine. The rheumatism has left me entirely. I have gained several pounds in weight, am rid of that tired, worn out feeling and can do as much hard work as I ever could without a particle of trouble. Tanlac is surely a remarkable medicine and I am glad to recommend it to others."

Tanlac is sold in Appleton by John L. Voigt, F. O. Brown, Shortton, Dr. J. M. Sattler, Bear Creek, H. E. Abend, Dale.

MANY IMPROVED FARMS UP IN TAYLOR COUNTY

Capt. George Merkel, deputy health officer, Robert Merkel and J. C. Pfeil, commissioner of poor here, returned from week's outing in Taylor county. They occupied a cottage on the shore of Lake Isadore, but did some of their fishing at Sawyer dam, where they had a lively experience with several muskellunge, none of which they succeeded in landing.

Capt. Merkel said that the land in Taylor county is being cleared up rapidly for farming purposes and that here are already many improved farms. The crops all look promising and the people appear to be prosperous. The trip was made by automobile. The roads in that part of the state are all in good condition. The party followed trunk lines practically all the way, leaving Appleton over No. 7. On trunk line No. 13 Capt. Merkel declared they are using what is called decomposed rock which makes a surface as hard as cement.

PITY THE POOR LAWYER; PRICE OF BOOKS IS UP

Rising costs have hit the law business. Appleton attorneys received notice Tuesday that the price of the familiar brown books on their shelves has increased from $7 to $8 per volume. The high printing and labor costs are assigned as the reason.

"Will that mean an increase in fees?" a prominent attorney was asked.

"I don't know as it will," he replied. "The law business is the only one that has not raised its prices for the last fifteen years. We earn no more in a day now than we did several years ago."

That is, if the very name of Brunswick isn't sufficient proof to you, as it is to most men, that here is an extraordinary tire.

Thousands of men who have known the name of Brunswick for years, realize that a Brunswick Tire has to be the best—for a mediocre product could never bear this historic name.

Long before the Overland Trail became famous, the House of Brunswick was established. It was one of the chief users of rubber for fifty years before automobiles came into use.

GETTING TOGETHER IN APPLETON

The movement to effect close cooperation between the city council and the Chamber of Commerce is timely and if brought about on the right basis can have only good results. The city government is interested in the promotion of Appleton's growth and welfare and it should be a large factor in our advancement. The Chamber of Commerce is organized for these specific purposes, and their functions overlap therefore in many ways.

The council can do its work and engage in progressive undertakings to best advantage if it has the Chamber of Commerce back of it. Likewise the Chamber of Commerce will function more efficiently if there is coordination of effort between the two bodies.

There will be many public improvements initiated by the council which will need the support of the organized business men. The building of bridges, the extension of parks, the expansion of the schools, public service and many other things will be worked out most successfully through this cooperation. It would be well to have frequent conferences between the council and the Chamber of Commerce. They should keep in close touch with each other, to the end that there may be mutual understanding and agreement if possible touching our many civic, municipal and industrial problems.

The initial conference developed a friendly and promising spirit all around. It indicated the possibilities of getting together for a frank discussion of public affairs. Every proposition of merit evolved by the council ought to have the hearty and active backing of the Chamber of Commerce, and vice versa, every good proposal put forward by the latter organization which concerns public improvements or municipal affairs should have the indorsement of the council. We are all engaged in the common purpose of making Appleton a better place in which to live, and we can attain this desire by joining our forces and working and boosting together.

The meeting of the Chamber of Commerce directors with the council is an auspicious beginning of relations which, it is to be hoped, will be cultivated. Nothing so clears the atmosphere of public affairs as to have the governing body and citizens sit down together and present their views. It tends to prevent misunderstandings, controversies and unnecessary opposition. It helps to sweep the decks clean for action and to avoid delays and obstacles which too often terminate in failure.

There should be no friction between the council and the Chamber of Commerce—there should be no occasion for friction—and there will be none if they meet each other half way and with the sole motive of doing what is best for Appleton. Where there are differences of opinion they will be thrashed out, and where there is agreement the union of forces will give double strength to every project which is attempted for the advancement of the city.

A WILSON CONVENTION

The president is in full control of the San Francisco convention. The elements in the Democratic party which are hostile to Mr. Wilson are not going to get very far in their program of opposition. Mr. Reed has been properly sat upon and expelled from the convention. Mr. Bryan has been considerably squelched and will not be a very formidable ingredient in the proceedings, including platform and nomination. This is as it should be. The country is tired of Mr. Bryan's interference, much as it may admire many of his qualities and some of his policies. But he is no longer the asset to the Democratic party he once was. He lost his power when he broke with the president.

Mr. Wilson is the backbone of the party and the principal hope in the campaign of 1920. Without him, without his counsel and direction of affairs, it would be worse than at sea. It would be like a rudderless ship. Whatever it has to go before the people with in the nature of an appeal it derives from his acts and his mentality. It is right therefore that the mentality should determine the party policies to be set forth at San Francisco. The platform should follow his ideas practically to the letter, for that is the only hope of getting a positive statement concerning anything, and there is every indication that it will. He should have his say about the league of nations declaration, the industrial and labor planks and other matters which are more or less controversial.

It has been a Wilson administration and it should be a Wilson campaign, in that the leadership established by the president should continue to serve as the controlling factor in the national convention. The president may with propriety keep his hands off the nomination and he probably will do this, although if Mr. McAdoo is nominated it will of course be charged that it was due to White House dictation. The Democrats have a rather forlorn prospect ahead, but they will not improve it by deserting the president. He is still the main hope of the party, and it is certain that nothing could be accomplished in opposition to him.

THE ISSUE IN WISCONSIN

Senator Roy P. Wilcox, in opening his speaking campaign for the Republican nomination for governor at Shell Lake said:

Today the fight is to debate whether the American idea of equal opportunity and development of the individual under representative constitution, at government in a republic, shall prevail against the philosophy of class struggle and collective government for a collective citizenship of a socialistic state. Make no mistake as to the issue. Make no mistake as to its nearness. The non-partisan league, officered and organized by red-card socialists, is the same old error under a new name. It represents only a change of tactics. It is a desperate effort to bring Marxian socialism to the farmer and city worker in such a form that it will appeal to both alike. It entices the farmer with glittering generalities about cutting out the middleman. North Dakota is floundering in chaos. Minnesota has barely escaped. Our rallying cry must be "Save Wisconsin."

The task which we have before us is to place the government of the state in the hands of those who will follow a constructive program, progressive enough to meet the changing needs of the time, yet not so radical as to threaten constitutional government, destroy existing social organizations, or lay undue burdens of taxation upon our people.

Mr. Wilcox brings forcefully to public attention the situation outlined by The Post-Crescent last week. Wisconsin faces one of the most important state elections in years. The same forces which brought disgrace upon the state during the war, augmented by agitators of one kind or another, are consolidating under the banner of radicalism to take over control of Wisconsin government and its representation at Washington. Because of the unmistakable tendencies of our politics and elections in this direction they have hopes of success. Indeed, they have something more than this, for unless the level-headed people of Wisconsin come to their senses we shall wake up to find a Dithmar in the gubernatorial chair and a Thompson in the United States senate.

The people should not deceive themselves as to what is at stake in this election. The radical element was making a bid for supremacy when the war came. By a supreme effort Wisconsin gathered herself together and threw off the power that sought to range the state against the Union—to make it the black sheep of the nation in the struggle with Germany. After loyalty had thoroughly asserted itself the opposition wisely observed silence. It kept in the background, however, and bided its time for renewed activity. That time came with the delay in negotiating peace and the general discontent and disturbance following in the wake of the war. These factors have been capitalized for all they are worth by the La Follette and allied forces. They have boldly and defiantly challenged that citizenship which made it uncomfortable for them while the war was in progress.

They are determined to take over political control in Wisconsin and they are exceedingly well organized. Mr. Wilcox in opening the campaign presents the issue clearly. He shows what is at stake. It is a choice of the kind of government in which North Dakota is floundering or of constructive and progressive administration, which will preserve prosperity alike to the farmer, the laboring man and the business man. Victory for radicalism will mean paralysis of industry, curtailment of investment and development, demoralizing economic conditions and exploitation of the people by self-seeking politicians.

It is a time when Wisconsin should keep its head, and when it should also keep its place with the rest of the country on foundations which all past experience has shown to be sound and enduring.

AUTOBIOGRAPHY—25

Why Have Children's Diseases?
A certain group of very prevalent infectious diseases called "children's diseases" (measles, scarlet fever, German measles, whooping cough, chicken pox, mumps) should be re-christened, rather than "children's diseases." They should be called Sanitarian's Delight. A great part of the detail and labor and expense of health boards and health officers is devoted to the "control" of these preventable diseases. We have been "controlling" the diseases of this group ever since sanitary ordinances were first devised, and our job never grows appreciably less. Dad thinks he knows the reason. He thinks he knows lots of things which may not be so. But I like dad's position on this children's disease scandal, for after all, a lot of kids are carried off by measles, and some even by chicken pox, you know.

Although no one has discovered the cause of measles, scarlet fever, German measles, chicken pox or mumps, all the doctors believe that these diseases, like whooping cough and diphtheria, are due to germs which are conveyed from the patient to other children in the secretions from the nose or throat (not through the skin). Now, as father points out, there is something in the nature of coryza (head cold, or the wilfully ignorant insist on calling it) or sore throat or cough, with abnormal secretions given off, in the earliest stage of each and all of the so-called children's diseases. Therefore, the time when these diseases are most infectious, most likely to spread to other persons, is in the very onset, before the child seems ill enough to be kept at home or in bed, the stage, in short, when every ignoramus is ready to dismiss the indisposition as a "mere cold." If every child showing the slightest evidence of a "mere cold" were immediately isolated, as he would be if ours were an intelligent sanitary practice, the focus whence develops each little epidemic would be thus snuffed before the conflagration could spread, and a great many children might escape nearly all of these preventable diseases.

Bear in mind that although the death rate from the mildest of the group—mumps or chicken pox—is small, that from the more dangerous of the group—measles and whooping cough—is great. Moreover, complications and sequelae of these diseases account for a great deal of suffering and physical inefficiency in children who have made immediate recoveries.

Grown-ups, whether they have had these diseases in childhood or not, acquire sufficient resistance to render them immune, in most instances. Being immune themselves, they are inclined to view the problem in a selfish light and to ignore the rights of us children. The grown-ups do not feel the necessity of requiring instant isolation of every alleged "cold," since, if the "cold" prove an epidemic condition, it will not be the result, but the little children who must suffer the result.

Health officers side in with the grown-ups on this question merely because they put their jobs from the grown-up population, not from the children, and so they haven't the nerve to prevent the Sanitarian's Delight—they just go on "controlling" it.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Diagnosis Means What's the Matter
I see you will answer all questions pertaining to health and by mail if a stamp is enclosed. I herewith enclose a stamp and would like you to tell me what is the matter with me. For several years I have been troubled—

ANSWER—I have been troubled for several years, too. My trouble is how to stop readers from (1) sending me postage stamps, for which I have no use, and (2) from asking me to tell 'em what's the matter. Diagnosis means telling you what is the matter, and I do not diagnose individual cases, for the simple reason that it can't be done without personal examination. I would advise you to try your family doctor.

Laundering for a Consumptive
Please tell me if there is danger in doing the laundry work of a person confined to bed with tuberculosis. I do the handkerchiefs and all the personal work. (K. E.)

ANSWER—No. Soap and water is a reliable antiseptic, and boiling destroys any bacilli which soap and water may not destroy.

Food Value of Tripe
Has tripe any food value, and if so what is its value? (G. K.)

ANSWER—Yes. A pound of tripe has about the same food value as a quart of milk.

So Has the Earth

I am 65 inches tall, 25 years old, and weigh 222 pounds. I have a good shape. I do all my own work, and the harder I work the larger I get. (Mrs. I. L.)

ANSWER—A woman 65 inches tall and 25 years old should weigh 130 pounds, and not over 144 pounds stripped. It isn't the harder you work, but the more you eat.

THE BOOK OF ANN

Ann Pays Me an Informal Visit, While Bob Is Away

I hadn't seen Ann since she had announced to me from the table under the pergola that she had sent Bob to find me talking to Ives. I didn't care too see Ann. I felt that I couldn't be nice to her while Bob and I were quarreling. And so when I heard her voice in my upper hall I was disagreeably surprised.

Ann had come in by the side door unannounced. Informally is her pet habit. It is not mine. I can't think of anybody except Bob and his mother to whom I would give "the run of the house." Ann assumed that she had the privilege. Was her assurance only another symptom of her "innocence" I wondered as I said "good morning" to her.

"I'll be your neighbor, tomorrow, if the servants arrive," Ann explained. "The last of my things are going into the house now! Come over and see how they look!"

I went. I had no excuse for refusing. Ann had selected some of the new glazed cretonne for her slip covers. The men were adjusting them. It was the final touch to the house. The cretonne had a gorgeous yellow background and splashed over it were all the colors of the rainbow, in huge bunches of gay blossoms. It hurt my eyes.

"So that's your 'aura,' Ann Lorraine!" I laughed.

"I guess so. Anyway, I feel awfully gay and happy with these bright things around me."

"They must be all right, then," I admitted.

"I simply love yellow!" Ann went on. "Why, I've just bought a bathing suit of yellow silk!"

"My goodness! Is it pretty? Let me see it!" I demanded. So up to Ann's own suite we went. The rooms were charming, but too much ruffled and frilled to please me. Even the window curtains were flounced from hem to lambrquin. A brand new idea and an expensive one. Those flounced silk curtains had cost a $100 a window. I preferred scrim. It did not keep out the air.

While I regarded those marvelous hangings, and admitted the charm of their novelty, Ann pulled a box from a dresser drawer and opened it.

Her new yellow bathing suit was of glazed satin, a material made especially for beach wear. Fortunately, Ann had avoided a violent contrast in the trimming of the suit. She is such a wee thing that I decided she would look, in that costume, like a stray sunbeam dancing on the sand.

I commended the suit, like the curtains, for its novelty and replaced it in its box in the drawer. Beside the box was a queer article to discover in a girl's chest of drawers. It was an automatic—officer's regulation side-arms.

"What have you got that thing around for?" I asked.

"That's mother's," Ann replied. "One of her movie properties. I'm so tiny, you know, that she has always been afraid I'll be kidnaped. She used to be afraid to leave me alone at home. So she gave me this. Oh, yes, I can use it. Jim taught me."

Ann dropped the gun rather carelessly into the box containing her bathing suit.

"Is it loaded?"

"Sure it is—now that Jimmy has given me so much valuable jewelry." Not having any comment to make, I turned to go home.

"I'm going with you," said Ann. "My phone hasn't been installed yet. May I use yours?"

Of course she could. Back to my house we went.

"The phone is in the alcove—under the stairs," I told her, and my hat. I brushed my hair, powdered my nose, and heard Ann's voice getting sharper and high as she remonstrated with the operator about "wrong number." I was sorry. I hated to have Ann nag the operator.

She was still at it when I reached the hall landing, but as I descended the stairs her voice became soft and sweet.

"White Point?" I heard her say. "In an hour? All right."

She rang off abruptly. As she emerged from the alcove I saw that her cheeks were pink with excitement.

Iron the Cool Electric Way
When It's Hot

The woman who does her ironing in the old-fashioned way during the hot summer weather chooses between two evils. She must either remain in the kitchen, where the heat makes the atmosphere almost unbearable; or walk to and from another room, back and forth with weary feet, every time the iron cools.

Makes Quick Work of Ironings

An Electric Iron takes nearly all the labor out of ironing. Attach it to any light socket—wherever it's coolest. Turn a switch and your iron is ready to remove the creases from the daintiest frills or the heaviest blankets. And all the time you are cool and fresh.

"REGULAR" TIME, BOYS SAY OF WEEK AT WAUPACA LAKES

APPLETON AND NEENAH YOUNG MEN RETURN FROM ANNUAL OUTING AT CAMP ONAWAY.

Twenty-four Appleton boys and the Rev. George Stickney of the Congregational church, returned yesterday afternoon from Camp Onaway, Chain O'Lakes, after a week's stay at the Neenah Boys' Brigade camp.

All the boys report a "regular" time, despite rather frequent visitations of Juke Pluvius. Fifty Neenah and Menasha boys of the Boys' Brigade were also at the camp. Most of the Appleton boys were members of the old brigade here, which is now amalgamated with the Boy Scouts.

Paseball, rowing, track meets, quilts, and all sorts of amusement kept the boys busy. An interesting baseball game was staged Monday between the Neenah and Appleton boys, Neenah winning in the tenth inning. At that Appleton came within a point of tying the score after Neenah had scored two runs in the first half of the extra inning. A baseball league was also in operation, under the direction of St. Bylow of Neenah.

After the regular track meet had been held, the boys put on a combined track meet and "show" for the old soldiers' home, just across the straits. The veterans were so pleased that a crate of luscious strawberries was presented the camp by one of them.

The camp was divided into groups for the use of the boats, and they were kept busy touring the Chain O'Lakes. War canoe races were also held, all of which were exceptionally close. A spirited internal war was maintained one day in the camp when several energetic "Bolsheviki" managed to haul down a red flag from a closely guarded tree and carry it to a neighboring island.

As usual prizes were awarded for places in the track meet and for the best conducted tents. The tent under the leadership of Gilbert Stevens was awarded first place in tent inspection.

OUTLINE CLUB PROGRAM AT MEETING OF WOMEN

As the initial step in beginning the summer program, Miss Constance Johnson, recreational director of the Appleton Woman's club, has called a mass meeting for eight o'clock Friday night at the Vocational school for women and girls of this city. The purpose of the meeting is to create enthusiasm for the work which the club is doing and to gain leaders for the many activities which are planned.

The proposed summer program will be presented for discussion. Proposed suggestions or changes will be considered at that time. The tentative program will give a hint of what is before the club and show the urgent need for leaders. Appleton women and girls who will give a part of their time and thought to a "health and happiness" program are needed.

The mass meeting is important, as it will mark the beginning of the regular club program. Miss Johnson will have the opportunity for the first time of meeting the club members as a whole and the people with whom she will deal.

CHANCE FOR GIRLS TO SPEND MONTH IN CHERRY ORCHARDS

SPECIAL TRAIN WILL TAKE APPLETON YOUNG WOMAN TO STURGEON BAY MONDAY MORNING

Appleton girls and women who have been envious of the opportunity afforded the boys to spend a delightful vacation in the cherry orchards of Sturgeon Bay, where they can fill their purses while they are enjoying the balmy lake breezes, now have this same chance. Miss Constance Johnson, recreational director for Appleton Woman's Club, announced this morning that 250 Appleton girls and women are wanted to leave Monday morning for the cherry orchards for a three or four week outing.

The Wisconsin Y. M. C. A., which has had charge of the pickers' camps for several years, this year is finding it difficult to secure a sufficient number of boys to pick the crop which is unusually large. This shortage of boys has made it necessary to enlist the aid of women and girls and now preparations are being made to entertain the feminine pickers.

A massmeeting for girls and women is to be held in the high school auditorium at eight o'clock tomorrow evening when the entire matter will be presented. The young women will be told how to prepare for the outing and the camp will be explained. Applications will also be received at that time.

The girls will be housed in new barracks which have never been occupied. Sleeping rooms will be on the second floor while the lower floor will be used for recreation. Special cooks will prepare the meals.

The program will be similar to that followed by the boys. The girls are to arise at six o'clock in the morning and breakfast is to be served a half hour later. Work in the orchards will start at seven o'clock and will continue until noon when lunch will be served beneath the cherry trees. Picking will be resumed at 1:30 o'clock and continues until 5. Supper will be served at 5:30 o'clock and will be followed by group competition from six to eight o'clock. The hour from eight to nine will be devoted to social entertainment. Taps will be sounded at nine o'clock to assure nine hours of sleep.

Girls will be divided into groups of 12, with a leader for each group. These leaders will have their living expenses paid while others will pay 60 cents a day, if they remain the entire camp period.

Miss Johnson is endeavoring to interest as many girls and women possible in this opportunity to spend nearly a month in the great outdoors. The camp will be adequately supervised and every effort will be made to keep the young women comfortable, it was said.

Girls will receive 2½ cents a quart for picking the cherries. Bonuses will also be paid to stimulate fast work.

There were several automobiles behind her and when she attempted to turn about she was "hit by the machine immediately back of her. She was pinned beneath the motorcycle on top of which was the Ford. Assistance was promptly rendered and she was rushed to a Milwaukee hospital. Among her other injuries she suffered a fractured limb.

Appleton Is Better City Since Barleycorn Died, Officers Say

It will be one year tomorrow since John Barleycorn was laid away amid weeping, wailing and gnashing of teeth—also amid jubilation by the throng who drove him into near oblivion. Appleton people look back over the dry period and wonder whether the city has actually benefited by the absence of booze. Several officials who are in a position to speak with authority express the belief that some good has resulted.

"Drunkness is virtually nil since prohibition has been in effect," said Judge A. M. Spencer. "We had practically no cases of drunkenness for months, but a few weeks have recently come up where moonshine was to blame."

Less Family Trouble
The judge states that the moral tone of Appleton has been raised considerably since booze made its exit. He has found that there is less family trouble, that families are better provided for, that children and wives are better dressed and that the whole moral atmosphere in some homes seems to be changed.

"Everybody is happier now," continued the judge, "and when moonshine is gotten rid of, people will be happier still."

Prohibition has had little effect on the perpetrators of big crimes, such as burglaries and holdups, in the opinion of George T. Prim, chief of police. These criminals learned long ago that they must have a level head when about to do some daring crime. There is just as much of this form of lawlessness going on as ever, especially in the big cities.

Theaters are Gainers
"There is one effect that I notice particularly since the saloons were prohibited from selling booze," said Chief Prim. "I had wives and mothers coming to me constantly complaining about their husbands or sons who were staying out half the night at the saloons, coming home drunk, beating up some member of the family or committing other acts while under the influence of liquor. Some women came to me secretly at my home for fear that some one would see them and tell the men, after which the women would be due for a beating. All this has disappeared. I find that the men no longer hang around the saloons. You will find them at home or going out with their families to the theaters. I believe any theater manager will tell you that there is a larger attendance of the men and their families."

Chief Prim has also found that the saloons now close up much earlier than formerly. Some places where gangs congregated would keep open beyond closing hours and it was sometimes difficult to force them to close. It was a more or less mechanical procedure to handle drunks in the "wet" days, Chief Prim stated. They hardly ever proved troublesome to the department, except in cases where one would become a bit violent and start a fight on the street. There are no drunks now except stray cases where they have secured moonshine or some intoxicating medicine preparation. While months have passed away without a single arrest for drunkenness on record.

No Violations Here
F. V. Heinemann, district attorney, states that there has been a decline in the number of cases of intoxication because liquor is not obtainable by the habitual drinker. He says that not a single complaint has reached his office of any violation of the federal prohibition laws, which speaks well for the people of Appleton. Raids have been made all around Appleton but Wheeler P. Woodcock of Milwaukee state prohibition officer, said there had been no cause for action here.

Mr. Heinemann contends that prohibition has not lessened the amount of crime other than drunkenness. He states that there is an increase rather than a decrease. Hardly a day passes but what someone is up in court for some offense, mostly of a social nature. This is not blamed to the liquor situation, he stated, but offsets the claim that jails are empty and that crime of all kinds have diminished.

Fewer Calls for Help
There is less call for aid from the city poor fund than ever before, according to J. G. Frost, commissioner of poor. He does not attribute this to prohibition entirely, because everybody has a chance to earn a good living these days. No record is available of circumstances altered by the dry era, he stated. The number of families aided by the city is reduced about half. It takes the same amount of money to operate the department because living is practically doubled. Conditions in the department were never better, Mr. Pfeil stated.

PRICE GOES UP AS MORE COAL ARRIVES

COAL SHIPMENTS ARE INCREASING BUT HIGHER FREIGHT RATES WILL SEND UP THE PRICES

Relief in the acute situation in local coal markets is expected by Appleton dealers within thirty days. By that time it is expected that sufficient freight cars will be in use to begin making up the deficiency brought about by the coal strike in November. With that relief, however, it is highly probable that an increase in prices will be necessary. The recent raise for freight handlers will result in an automatic lift to rates, which will seriously affect coal prices. One local dealer estimates that it may result in the price of hard coal going up $1.25 to $1.75 a ton. Soft coal, coming a shorter distance will be less seriously affected.

Less than three thousand tons have been received by local dealers since April 1, when the coal moving season begins. This has been received by way of the Great Lakes. Five months more remain of navigation, after which the railroads alone can be depended upon for fuel. It is estimated that Appleton uses 40,000 tons a year solely for domestic purposes. Of the three thousand tons received, about a thousand tons remain in storage.

The manufacturing situation is even more serious, since the soft coal shortage is much more acute than hard coal. Coke is now practically off the market, as is Pocahontas coal. This shortage results in a stronger than normal demand for hard coal, even among domestic consumers. Though anthracite shipments are fairly free, there must soon be increased receipts in order to meet the great demand.

Lack of freight cars is blamed for the situation.

RUSH CITY HALL FOR LICENSES FOR DOGS

Both the clerk and his stenographer were kept busy filling out blanks, it being the last day on which licenses can be issued. The number of licenses issued up to this noon was 200. The indications are that there will be another rush this afternoon.

RAIL TIE-UP HARD ON BUILDING MEN

BUILDING AT STANDSTILL BECAUSE RAILROADS ARE UNABLE TO TRANSPORT CEMENT

Construction work in Appleton and the state is still suffering because of the untimely of securing cement. Much road work and many new buildings are being held up indefinitely in a vain effort to locate this material.

Local supply men say that they expect no relief for this situation for months. They add that the railroads must first successfully meet the two major problems facing the transportation of farm products and of coal. It is hardly expected that the coal situation will be relieved before the fall crops again burden transportation. Meanwhile, building industry must wait.

The only way that cement can be secured now is in "rough loaders," or freight cars with leaky roofs. In so ordering the product, dealers assume all the risks of rain spoiling the product by the time it reaches them.

Manufacturers of cement are apparently not running behind most of them being overstocked. The freight situation must bear most of the blame. As far as local men are concerned, the building stuff is unobtainable, and has been for many weeks. Last year it could be bought at $2.75 a barrel, while now quotations above $6 fail to bring any response.

About 2,100 men have been assigned to the university by the state board of education.

OSHKOSH GAS CO. ASKS RATE RAISE

Oshkosh.—Stating that the high price of coal, oil, labor and other factors entering in the manufacture of gas makes the step necessary, the Oshkosh Gaslight Co. has notified the city that it will make formal application to the state rate commission for an emergency increase in the gas rates here. The proposed raise and present rates, in net figures, are: First 15,000 cubic feet, $1.90, now $1.25; next 35,000 cubic feet, $1.80, now $1.15; over 50,000 cubic feet, $1.65 now $1.

There are some 68,000 federal statutes now in force.

HUGE ARMY OF BUGS IS ATTACKING CROPS

FARMERS FORCED TO EXTEND THEMSELVES TO KEEP AHEAD OF DESTRUCTIVE PESTS

Crop destroying insects appear to be more numerous this year than ever. The potato bug and the striped squash worm or cucumber beetle are so thick that extermination is almost out of the question. Spraying and other methods are resorted to but do not prove entirely effective.

Cut worms were making inroads on the cabbage and corn plants but have practically disappeared. They make their appearance as soon as warm weather comes, but usually die out about the latter part of June. Other pests seem to take their place, however.

The squash worms have appeared in unusually large numbers, farmers say. They are attacking cucumber, squash and melon vines. A preparation of Bordeaux mixture, a prepared powder, has been used with some success, but has no effect unless the bugs eat the poison. Some farmers are placing wire screening over their plants to keep the beetles off until the plants have a chance to become strong.

Arsenate of lead and Paris green are popular as terminators of potato bugs. The former may be applied dry or in solution of water as desired. Brushing the bugs off the plants into a receptacle and then burning them is another method used with success.

Uncle Sam 20-30

Ability to harvest a crop on time is a very essential thing in the farming industry in these days of extremely scarce and high priced help. It is always well to remember that the Uncle Sam 20-30 Tractor will displace at least twelve horses and three hired hands, which means that the tractor will earn better than 50% of the investment in its first year.

OWEN PRESENTED AS ONE OF GREATEST LIVING AMERICANS

OKLAHOMA SENATOR DECLARED TO POSSESS POWERFUL APPEAL TO AMERICA'S VOTERS.

TURN RULE NO. 5

San Francisco, June 29.—Senator Robert L. Owen's name was placed before the Democratic national convention here today as a candidate for nomination for the Presidency. D. Hayden Linbaugh of Muskogee, Oklahoma, presented the Oklahoma senator's name, saying in part:

With you, Oklahoma rejoices in this great gathering of the sons and daughters of Democracy. As Democrats we can survey the past with feelings of exultation and of pride. The achievements of our party during our administration of governmental affairs are unexcelled in American history. Democracy has rendered a full measure of service to the Republic.

As Democrats no responsibility of the past is greater than the responsibility of today—the responsibility of choosing a man to direct the destiny of the nation for the next four years. Let us nominate a man who is worthy to be President of the United States. Let us nominate a man who can attract the largest possible support and who will arouse the least antagonism. Let us nominate a man who can be elected.

Oklahoma presents one of the greatest brains, one of the greatest hearts, one of the greatest Democrats in America—a man who is worthy to be President of the United States; a man who can be elected President of the United States; a man who can marshal the greatest number of friends and supporters of any man in the United States; a man who will lead the country and the Democratic party to a grand and glorious victory in November. Senator Robert L. Owen of Oklahoma.

We present you a candidate who will appeal with extraordinary power to the eighteen million women voters in the United States; who, when all other candidates were silent, indifferent or opposed to woman suffrage, was their valiant champion and the chosen leader of the woman suffrage forces in his state. It was due to him that Oklahoma finally adopted state woman suffrage, and it was due to him and to his strenuous efforts that Oklahoma ratified the Susan B. Anthony amendment. We present you a man who has always been for those things which women deeply desire. If there be a man in America who is entitled to the support of the women of America, that man is Senator Owen.

Oklahoma presents you a man who without bigotry has been the faithful champion of prohibition in his own state and throughout the nation; one who can be relied on to faithfully execute the Eighteenth amendment.

We present you a man who has been a faithful leader and supporter of the great legislative program of Democracy. Senator Owen has supported every Democratic policy, every progressive act and every war measure. His speeches in support of the peace treaty of our great President, Woodrow Wilson, were unsurpassed in the senate chamber.

Oklahoma presents you a man who would be acceptable to the business men and bankers accord him the credit, above all other men in America, for the great benefits of the federal reserve act. It was he who presented the fundamental principles of that act to the people of the United States in 1898, and who urged, in 1900, an amendment of the national bank act containing these principles, which would have prevented the panic of 1907. Senator Owen is the master-builder of the federal reserve act.

We present you a man acceptable to the farmers of our land. The farmers know he put through the senate the great farm loan act, giving the farmers access to money on long time, from which act they have already received benefit to the extent of hundreds of millions of dollars in loans. He worked for the good roads act, for the agriculture extension act, for the extension of the parcel post, the rural routes, and the postal savings banks.

We present you a well-known friend of labor, whom the workmen would strongly support. His authorship of the child labor law and active support of all progressive labor legislation show his intelligent appreciation of the problems of labor and his earnest desire to solve them wisely.

We present you a genuine American who has in his public and private life at all times happily exemplified the true and typical American spirit. A man of great vision, of an even temperament—with a calm, sincere and tranquil spirit; a man of simplicity; a worshiper of truth and honor; a lover of his fellow man, with a brain and heart equal to any task the great office shall impose.

Obedience to the action of the Democracy of my state, I propose a man whose thoughts, words and acts have helped to give stability to capital; have strengthened and steadied the arm of labor; protected children; brought women into their rightful heritage; made the nation sober and brought the government nearer to the fireside of the citizen; a man who would make a people's President—an executive who could be absolutely relied on at all times to faithfully and efficiently serve the interests of all our people.

Making a Beginning.
As a result of lectures administered to him by both his father and the young woman of his choice, a certain young man decided to turn over a new leaf and show some interest in business.

"Well, Molly," he said to the girl one evening, "I am really going into business in earnest. Made a beginning already today."

"Good!" exclaimed Molly. "And what was the nature of your start?"

"I ordered my tailor to make me a business suit."

Chautauqua or Circus.
The manager was strolling about the big Chautauqua tent, which had just been set up in a small Missouri town, and the boys were laying the plank seats, when the whir of engines was heard, and two automobiles appeared, racing furiously toward the Chautauqua grounds. They stopped, side by side in the dust and smoke of heavily set brakes, and the drivers leaped from their seats and ran at top speed toward the astonished Chautauqua manager.

"I'm a butcher!" gasped the first.

"I'm a butcher!" cried the second.

Then both together they shouted, "I want the contract to furnish meat for the animals!"—Youth's Companion.

History You May Not Know.
One earnest pupil in a coal-field school near Kittanning wrote an essay on Thanksgiving. "The Pilgrims sailed to Cape Cod," she said, "and the first winter they went to pick mayflowers in Plymouth in order to show Geo. 3 that anyone could worship God in their own way."

ing the party to a recognition of the Irish republic. The labor plank and plank asked for by women's organizations will present little difficulty, members said, as it was almost unanimously agreed that strong declarations favoring the demands of organized labor and of women in industry and the home, had been written into the platform.

Senator Glass said at the conclusion of the session that it was difficult to predict when the sub-committee would finish its work, but indications were it would not be for 24 hours. This would throw the reporting of the platform to the convention by the full committee over to Thursday afternoon or possibly Friday.

"There isn't a particle of truth in any story that the sub-committee took any action at all last night," Senator Glass, chairman of the sub-committee, declared today when his attention was called to a report that a wet plank had been rejected by a vote of six to three.

"There was no vote taken," said Glass, "and only tentative matters were discussed."

Double Wedding

At 3 o'clock this afternoon at the William Behl residence, Black Creek, occurred the marriage of Miss Ella Behl to Walter Kluge, Appleton. The marriage of Miss Mabel Behl, also the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Behl, to Alfred Wolf, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wolf, Black Creek, will take place at 4 o'clock this afternoon at the St. John church, Black Creek. The Rev. Carl Kluge, Forest, Ill., brother of the groom, performed the wedding at the home. The bride was attired in a dark blue suit of tulle, with a blue mallow hat, and wore a corsage bouquet of Ophelia roses and carnations. She was attended by her sister, Miss Louise Behl, who also wore a dark blue tulle suit, with a black mallow hat, and a corsage bouquet of roses. Herbert Kluge attended the groom.

The Rev. Mr. Thomas will perform the ceremony at the church. The Misses Esther Behl and Clara Wolf, Arthur Wolf and George Krueger, will attend the couple. The bridegroom is of white satin draped with georgette. The bride will wear a veil caught with pearls and carry a showery bouquet of Ophelia roses and carnations. The bridesmaids' gowns are both dainty blue organdies and the bridesmaids will wear corsage bouquets of roses.

Following the ceremony a reception for both wedding parties will be held at the Behl home. A large number of guests are attending the wedding, including several Appleton people. The two couples will spend their honeymoon together. They will leave on an auto trip for Milwaukee, Chicago, Madison and other cities. Upon their return Mr. and Mrs. Kluge will make their home in Appleton at 844 Richmond street. Mr. and Mrs. Wolf will live on a farm a few miles outside of Black Creek.

For Bride To Be

Eighteen members of the Rebekah lodge, friends of Mrs. Nettie Peterson, gave a shower in her honor at her home, 492 Washington street, Monday night. The affair was in honor of Mrs. Peterson's forthcoming marriage to S. W. Benedict, 657 Rankin street. A social evening was spent, and light refreshments served.

Odd Fellow Meeting

The first degree will be conferred at the meeting of the Odd Fellows Monday night, July 12. Visitors from Clintonville and Winnecone are expected. The regular meeting will be preceded by a banquet.

Licensed at Menominee

A marriage license has been issued at Menominee, Mich., to Henry Brandenburg, Appleton, and Ethel M. Gregory, Green Bay.

Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Buss and Mr. and Mrs. Emil Buss entertained a number of friends Sunday at the home of the latter, 729 Winnebago street. Both couples celebrated their third wedding anniversary.

Cards Engaged

Two engagements were made public at the Delta Gamma sorority camp meeting at Waupaca following the close of school. The engagement of Miss Edna Youtz, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. L. A. Youtz, to Arthur Christopher, Flint, Mich., and the engagement of Miss Hazel Morrison, who left Lawrence just before the close of school to accept a position in China, to Howell Thomas of this city, were announced.

Surprise Party

Misses Alvina Luebben and Edna Nobert staged a surprise party last night for Miss Hattie Luebben in honor of her birthday at the Luebben home, Bateman street. About fifty guests were present. The evening was spent in playing games. Refreshments were served later in the evening.

Golden Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Striegel, Macville, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary yesterday at their home. A family reunion was held, the eight children and their families assembling in honor of the occasion. A large number of friends also gathered. Numerous gifts were received by the couple.

CUMMINGS NEVER SOUGHT OFFICE, NOMINATION SAYS

CHAIRMAN OF DEMOCRATIC NATIONAL CONVENTION STANDS "FOUR SQUARE WITH WILSON"

By United Press Leased Wire
San Francisco, June 29.—"Connecticut offers as your candidate for president of the United States, one of her most distinguished sons. He already belongs to the democracy of the nation. How brilliantly he has discharged his trust as chairman of the democratic national committee, you can all testify.

"Never a seeker after public office, he none the less has held his great talents always at the service of his country. In politics he is emphatically a progressive. Through the last quarter of a century he has fought valiantly for every great reform that marks a milestone in the vitalizing process by which democracy's ideals have been promoted and the purity of popular government preserved.

"Above all, he stands four square with that inspired prophet of worldwide peace, our own beloved Woodrow Wilson.

"Let us prove to the world that America has not forgotten. Let us nominate today a man through whom the power of our country shall fulfill at least Isaiah's ancient prophecy: 'Nation shall not lift up sword against nation; neither shall they learn war any longer.'

"Connecticut offers you such a man today; a figure that rises up out of the tumult of contending desires as the one man upon whom all the factions of democracy can most happily and harmoniously unite. He is a man who in the arduous days of the campaign that is to come will be courageous enough to speak the true mind of our party, and eloquent enough to waken the great heart of our country. He is a man whose charm and brilliance will bear to victory, the great designs that have signalized and glorified our nation.

"He is a man with whom in next November we can prove to the opposing party and to the world that America has kept the faith; that America, with all the splendor of her soul, stands consecrated to the spiritual leadership of Woodrow Wilson.

"Connecticut offers you today the masterful and penetrating mind, the deep, broad learning, the splendid noise, the eloquent tongue, the clean heart, the noble vision of a great American and a great democrat—Homer S. Cummings."

Dead Towns Awaken.
Dead towns of the West are coming to life as a result of the silver boom. There were towns in Colorado and Nevada and Arizona, which, under the influence of silver in those days after the Civil war, burst into wild, rich life that has no parallel in history.

Clouds of dust are rising along the trails that lead across sagebrush plains. The mining engineer, present-day successor of the prospector and his burro, is astir in the silver country.

They are going back to the old shafts that yielded wealth when silver was above a dollar. With the advance in mining processes in the last four decades the chances of profits are many times multiplied.

Many persons may not know that the scent and flavor of lemon peel reside in minute cells, close to the surface of the fruit, and that by slicing it thin they will cut through these innumerable cells and thus obtain double the quantity of the essential oil that could be procured by anyone careless of this fact. The cells being cut through, it follows that a great part of the oil remains on the white of the lemon. This is easily abstracted by rubbing a lump of sugar with it.

Nature's Wise Supervision.

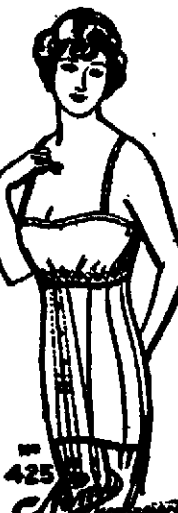

The part important played by the weather as a means of preventing the too rapid development of the plant life of the world can be realized only when we consider the vast number of seeds produced. If conditions of the atmosphere favored a more even temperature all over the earth, as was probably the condition in the early history of the planet, there would be fewer varieties of plant life, because the more rapidly producing plants would crowd out the others.

Just Run Your Hoover Over

The rugs are electrically beaten, swept, and also suction cleaned in one operation.

Vacuum clean them—and they are but suction cleaned.

That is why so many people buy Hoovers.

Suction alone cannot equal suction aided by thorough sweeping and beating.

Especially is rug beating vital. By no other means can destructive embedded grit, which gnaws off nap under the tread of shoes, be efficiently removed.

To clean thoroughly use The Hoover. Only The Hoover beats... as it sweeps as it suction cleans. Also it straightens crushed nap, as it brightens colorings, as it prolongs the life of any rug or carpet.

The HOOVER

IT BEATS... AS IT SWEEPS AS IT CLEANS

We will gladly demonstrate The Hoover on your rugs, without obligation. Telephone 3rd Floor for appointment.

RAINSTORM DOES DAMAGE TO CROPS

Ashland.—Heavy rains during the last twenty-four hours have caused considerable damage in northern Wisconsin to crops and roads. Bad river at Odanah is out of its banks and still rising, threatening to flood the village. Ashland was in darkness for a time Sunday night, the wires burning out, some hail fell. Crops will be benefited where rain was not too heavy. Italy experienced nearly 30,000 earthquakes in the last 50 years.

HOME RUN IN FOURTEENTH GIVES GAME TO BREWERS

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn.—Babe Ruth has been hitting homers, but none have come in quite so handy and at such an opportune time as the one walloped out by Artie Butler here Tuesday afternoon in the fourteen inning game between the Brewers and Miller. Butler's home run clout came in the fourteenth inning with three men on bases, and brought to a close the pitching duel between Northrop and Lowdermilk and gave Jerry Jake the better of the battle, 6 to 2. Butler has been doing a great deal of hitting during the last few weeks. Singles and doubles galore have been marked up to his credit and just when a home run clout was needed he pulled off the stunt. Gaston started the fourteenth with a double to left. Bergwall hit to Sawyer, who was too late to get Gaston at third. Northrop was safe on Sawyer's error, filling the bases. Butler, always a danger, was man, came next and with a Babe Ruth swing he lifted the ball to the left field garden and circled the bases with Gaston, Bergwall and Northrop trotting in ahead of him. This took all the fight out of the battling Miller and after trying in vain to come back in their half of the fourteenth they finally acknowledged defeat and passed through the final round without scoring a run. Northrop and Lowdermilk worked the full fourteen innings and Jake had a little the better of the pitching, being touched for only eleven hits, while Lowdermilk allowed twelve.

CUBS AND PIRATES DIVIDE DOUBLE HEADER

CHICAGO.—Chicago and Pittsburg divided a double header on Tuesday, the visitors winning the first game by 4 to 1 in eleven innings, and the locals taking the second by 14 to 3. Carey's double drive brought in the deciding run of the

TEN GROOMED FOR "RUNNING MATES"

COX AND MEREDITH BELIEVED TO HAVE INSIDE TRACK FOR SECOND PLACE ON TICKET.

By United Press Leased Wire. San Francisco.—Vice-presidential booms were being inflated today by backers of ten potential candidates. Both Governor Cox, of Ohio, and Secretary of Agriculture Meredith, of Iowa, today continue to be mentioned as possibilities for the vice-presidency although both will be placed in nomination to head the ticket. Meredith's friends are striving for a coalition with Cox supporters, while Cox is hoped by some for second place on a McAdoo slate.

Meredith's formal statement of withdrawal from the presidential race is believed to have greatly strengthened his chances for the second place. Others whose names are being put forward are: Governor S. V. Stewart, Montana; ex-Senator James H. Hawley, Idaho; former U. S. Senator J. Hamilton Lewis, Illinois; Brig. Gen. L. S. Tyson, Tennessee; Edward L. Doherty, California; ex-Governor David R. Francis, of Missouri; ex-Governor G. H. Hodges, Kansas; Vice-President Thomas R. Marshall.

VETERANS WILL OFFER FUND DU LAC GUARD UNIT

Fond du Lac.—Fond du Lac sent her Co. E to France as Co. B. One Hundred Fifth machine gun battalion, a unit of the Rainbow division. Now the city is to have another Co. E in the national guard, and when the company is mustered in Monday the officers will be almost identical with those of the original company. Capt. John Smith went out as first lieutenant of the company; First Lieut. Hugh Flannigan was a member of Co. E, but resigned to attend the first officers' training camp, was commissioned and won the D. S. C. with a New York outfit; Second Lieut. Henry Vogt held the same rank in the original company.

JURY CAN'T AGREE; JUDGE FINES MAN

Oconto, Wis.—When a jury in municipal court failed to reach a verdict after twenty-four hours' debate, in the case in which Bert Cain was charged with manslaughter, the judge took the case into his own hands and fined Cain $500 and costs. Cain was arrested after an automobile accident, May 4, in which Edward Hazen was killed. It was testified that the car in which the men were riding contained a quantity of moonshine whiskey, and that Cain was driving recklessly when he ran into a telephone pole, wrecking the machine, killing one man and injuring several others.

MAKE it easier to get around and you make healthier and happier communities. No one any longer questions the worth of the automobile — or begrudges any legitimate expense connected with it.

But millions of car owners are rebelling at the idea that running an automobile has got to mean waste.

Every now and then you hear a neighbor complain that "he doesn't seem to have much luck with tires."

Send him to us.

The minute a man begins to question the service his tires are giving him, he's ready to listen to reason.

Our business is built on the principle that the only way to get better tire service is to get better tires to start with.

That's why we have taken the representation for U. S. Tires.

U. S. Tires have a reputation for quality.

Built up through years of creating better tires. Such as the straight side automobile tire, the pneumatic truck tire.

BIRCHWOOD NURSE GIVES DIRECTIONS FOR KEEPING COMFORTABLE THESE WARM DAYS

Birchwood, Wis.—Miss Ruth Daub, Baron township nurse, has issued a number of "do's-and-don'ts" with a view of making both children and grown ups more comfortable during the hot summer days.

Don't forget that baby feels the heat as much or more than you do even if he is too young to talk about it.

Don't forget to give him a drink of cool water often.

Don't let the milk stand around. Put it on ice or in the cellar at once.

Don't neglect baby's bottles and nipples or cups. Wash and boil them carefully. A very little sour milk can make a great deal of trouble.

Don't dress baby too heavily.

Don't let babies or little children eat green or overripe fruit.

Use plenty of powder and sweet oil or some good cold cream.

Use plenty of milk, eggs, cheese, and vegetables; cut down on the meat during the hot weather.

Use as much fruit as you can afford; with less pie and cake.

Live Out of Doors

Soda solution is good for heat rash, as for bee and mosquito stings.

Let the little children sleep as much as they can; the heat is weakening.

Drink all the water you want, but drink it slowly.

Live simply, drink plenty of water, get plenty of sleep, keep clean and don't worry. The end of the summer will find you stronger and healthier.

TELLS WHY JOHNSON LOST BADGER VOTE

ACCEPTANCE OF HARDING'S PLATFORM TURNED WISCONSIN AGAINST CALIFORNIA

Jefferson, Wis.—With 30 delegates present, representing all precincts, the La Follette Progressive Republican club of Jefferson county Saturday endorsed state candidates for the primary.

It chose Lieut. E. F. Dithmar in preference to Atty. Gen. John J. Blaine, who is credited with being the favorite of Madison leaders close to Senator La Follette. Mr. Blaine is in the field with the backing of the Non-partisan league. Others who received the endorsement of the club were James Thompson, La Crosse, for United States senator and Congressman Ed Voigt, Sheboygan, candidate to succeed himself. This is the first occasion, on which Mr. Voigt, who entered politics as a Conservative, has received the endorsement of the Progressive wing of the party. All endorsements were by unanimous vote.

Explains Delegates' Vote
"The Wisconsin delegates did not vote for Johnson because Johnson had accepted the Harding platform," said Dr. A. H. Hartwig, temporary chairman of the convention. "The Harding platform was directly contrary to the La Follette platform, and after Johnson accepted it we were no longer in harmony with him, and felt we could not vote for him for the nomination. Had Johnson stood by the principles he preached there might have been a different result."

Race Distinction a Menace
The resolutions endorsed Senator La Follette and demand that all county candidates supported by the club subscribe to the La Follette platform. A committee will be named to confer with the Equity Society, Nonpartisan league, and labor organizations relative to the county ticket.

The La Follette Progressive club, which took an active part in the delegate campaign, is organized with headquarters in Watertown and branches throughout the county. Its officers are A. F. Ernst, president; Ray C. Twinning, vice president; Henry Moldenhauer, treasurer; Julius Gewerke, secretary.

Paying What's Fair

THE average American is fair-minded. He prefers to pay his way and ask no favors.

People have no objection to paying the right price for a commodity once they know what the right price is.

The right price for gasoline is based first, on the cost of crude oil; second, on the cost of refining; and third, on the cost of distributing the refined product.

During the war prices were fixed by Governmental demand rather than by natural law.

The very low prices obtaining in 1915 were due to two causes—first, to ultra-conservatism due to uncertainty; second, to the spectacular production of oil in the Cushing fields, a production which dwindled almost as magically as it increased.

Since the Armistice the cost of every item entering into the production, refining, and distribution of petroleum products, has increased to an unprecedented degree. The production of crude petroleum has not kept pace with the demand. This has caused fierce competition for such crude oil as is obtainable. This competition has forced the price of crude oil until it is costing the Standard Oil Company (Indiana), f. o. b. Whiting, $4.30 a barrel, as against $2.92 on Nov. 11, 1918—an increase of 47 percent.

Yet in the same period gasoline advanced in price but 24 percent.

Only through the efficiency of large scale refinery practice and through advanced scientific processes of extracting an ever increasing percentage of gasoline from the crude oil, has the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) been able to hold gasoline prices down to present levels, and still yield a fair return to its 4799 stockholders.

It is generally conceded in the petroleum industry that the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is operating on the closest margin possible.
